The Internet is a big place, with plenty of room for everyone! Some people, like me, insist on claiming lots of little bits of it as their own! This page lists all of my various pages on megasites like MySpace, YouTube, and so on.

Here is a list of all of my pages at the "megasites" (as I'm calling them):

- MySpace - the original social network.
- Facebook - the "next generation" social network. Far superior to MySpace in most ways, especially it's lack of "I pimped my MySpace at www.blingmyspace.com!" and associated garish visual pollution.
- Bebo (I never worry about Bebo, but if you're obsessed by it, by all means add me)
- YouTube - only 1 video uploaded at present, I think, but maybe that will increase.
- eBay.com.au - our family account, at any rate. By sharing, our feedback goes up faster, and it's rarely a problem. NB: Removed to protect my family's privacy.
- del.icio.us - a list of both personal and occasionally fun-for-everyone links.
- StumbleUpon - I occasionally use this if I am bored. It randomly serves up what is usually a particularly awesome website for your perusal.
- An old blog I no longer update.

I'll add others as they come to me.

Other sites I am involved in:

- Original BrickBASH! homepage, hosted when I was a cheapskate at GeoCities.
